Want to save money and buy from government-surplus auctions? You can! It has never been easier to buy hundreds of items such as cars, buses, boats, jewelry, furniture, and electronics – anything you need. Find huge savings on items no longer needed by the federal government. The proceeds help offset the cost of running the government.

- Visit the GSA AuctionsSM website at www.gsaauctions.gov to find a variety of surplus personal property for sale.
- Visit www.usa.gov/auctions-and-sales to learn more about which agencies sell surplus property.

What kind of property can I find?

All property on the GSA Auctions website is used, some lightly, some heavily. GSA does not guarantee the condition of the sale items.

We encourage customers to inspect property so they can learn of any item deficiencies that may not be included in the description. GSA is not responsible for deficiencies identified after award.
